

Pipes of the month

Lieblich Flute 4ft (Choir)

Claribel Flute 8ft (Choir)

Hohl Flute 8ft (Great)

Flute Couverte 4ft (Great)

Flute pipes in the pipe organ closely resemble the sound of the orchestral flute, both in how the sound is produced (by blowing wind across the mouth) and in the sweet, clear tones produced.

Flute Couverte is useful both as a solo and combination stop.

The Willis version of the Claribel Flute is usually wooden pipes in the bottom octaves and metal pipes in the higher octaves.

Lieblich flute means 'lovely flute', usually 4ft and in the Choir section.

The Hohl flute is a wide scaled wooden stopped flute.
